Resist the EU/IMF deal

Irish people are being forced to pay for the crimes of bankers and speculators. The bank bailout has cost us €70 billion so far.

Despite talk of 'burden-sharing' and even 'burning the bondholders', the Fine Gael-Labour government is following the exact same strategy as Fianna Fáil by pouring billions of our money into the banks at the behest of the IMF-EU.

What does this IMF-EU deal mean for us?

- 240,000 low paid workers are now having their pay and conditions targeted
- Children with special needs are being left without places in schools or without the resource hours they need
- Water charges are going to be introduced
- State assets, such as ESB, Coillte, Bord Gais, Harbours, Ports and Airports are threatened with privatisation
- People on social welfare will be forced to work for below minimum wage as part of a "labour activation programme".
- Waiting lists for life saving medical procedures are getting longer

Some claim that the IMF and the EU are trying to help and that without their support the ATM machines would have no money or, that the state could not pay social welfare. These are scare stories. The real purpose behind the deal is to force Irish workers to pay the private debts' of Irish and European bankers and speculators. If Fine Gael and Labour continue with this failed policy the country will be destroyed for a generation. The majority of Irish people are opposed to this EU-IMF deal but have been denied any real say.

'Enough' wants to follow the lead of the people of Iceland who demanded the right to vote on their banking bailout. In the past year they have had two referendums and, in both cases, the majority of people said no to protecting bankers and speculators.

There is an overwhelmingly democratic case for putting an agreement with such profound economic and social consequences to a vote. It's time we said 'Enough is Enough'.

What is 'Enough'?

Across the country hundreds of thousands of people are suffering from the effects of this corrupt deal. 'Enough' is a broad based campaign that seeks to bring citizens together to campaign for a referendum and against the cutbacks being forced on us. Get involved and help us fight for a future that puts people ahead of profit.
